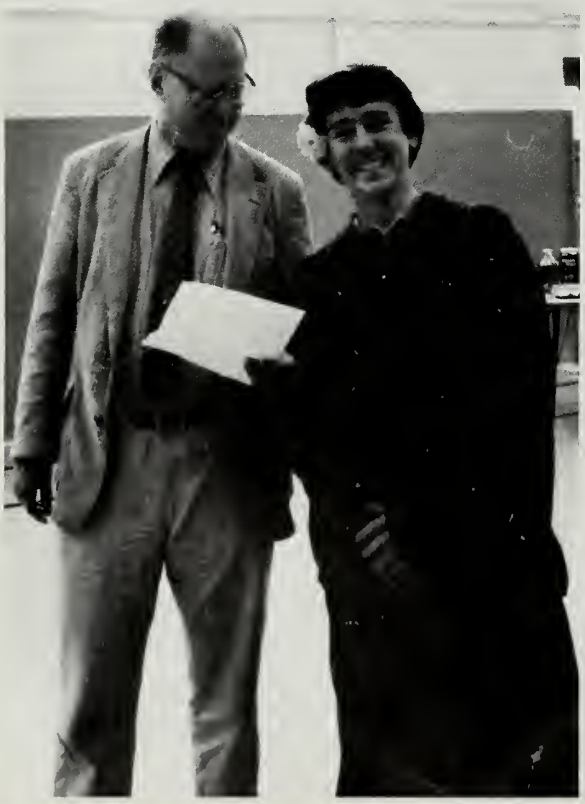
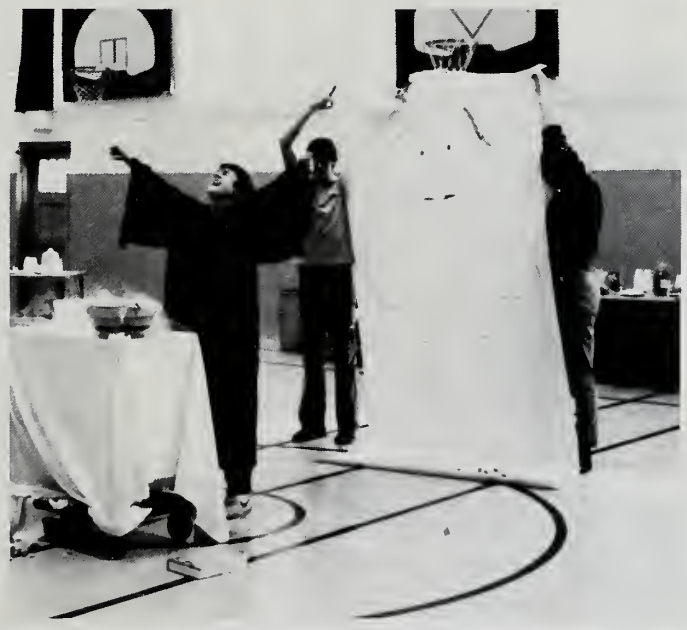
We, the Class of 1985, dedicate this



Yearbook to . . .

Dr. Robert Davis

Although Dr. Davis only taught us Calculus for one year, we learned much more. He amused us with his tales of car antennas, Necco Wafers, and inverse cows. He also told us that we "really do know how to do this," even when we thought we didn't. He was always willing to help anyone of us who happened to need his help. — and his laughter was enough to brighten anyone's day. Thank you, Dr. Davis. Thank you for making our stay at Uni more worthwhile and enjoyable.



V . . . O.K. Ella, now make a W.

Spirits are high.

Keep the beat.

Track

After a tremendous season last year, the track teams worked very hard to maintain their excellence. Guided by Monique Brown, Ella Schoenberg, Tom Leslie, and Herbert Schonken, everyone put in a lot of hours (not to mention effort), and Uni proved, again, that this is a school of achievers.

Getting ready

Girls Varsity

Under Pat and Sally's direction, the Uni girls had yet another winning season. They started with a win over Saybrook-Arrowsmith. Then for the first time they won the Oakland Tournament. Such great success was due to dedication on everyone's part. The team even broke last year's record for the most wins in one season.

EVENTS

Dances

As always, the Uni dances were lots of fun. The D.J.'s played good music, and everyone danced to their hearts' content. The Howdy Hop, Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Dances were all enjoyable, as was the Spring Fling. All in all, this year's dances provided much-needed relaxation.

"What do you mean you don't have it!?!"

It was an excellent dance!

Fall Play

This year, the fall play was the comedy, "The Mouse That Roared." The cast and crew worked hard throughout rehearsals. Then, on opening night, just as everything seemed to be running smoothly, the fuses blew and the Attic was plunged into darkness for just over an hour. During this impromptu intermission, the cast sang and danced to the delight of the audience. Despite the interruption, the cast was able to put on a terrific show.

Cast: Barbara Maclay, David McCord, Rick Burkhardt, Jamsheed Shorish, Steve Findley, Lisa Frankenberg, Andrew Reisner, David Han, Heather Garret, Lark Huang, Cynthia Chow, Alsion Shaw, Kate Kasserman, Linda Travis, Liz Salzmann, Tom Pickett, Jimmy Lynge, Julie Swadener, Mary Kay Mulally, Johnny Faiman, Arne Gullerud, Joe Futrelle, Marc Talbot, Beth Rempe, Aaron Loeb, and the student protestors. Also, thanks to the crew.

Spring Musical

This year's musical was Kiss Me Kate, a rollicking back (and front) stage adventure by Cole Porter. The characters fall in love, fight, act, sing, and DANCE! Everyone had a great time putting this together, despite (or maybe because of) the tremendous amount of time that it took. Under the experienced direction of Mr. Murphy, David Brunner, Ruth Wortis, and Audrey Wells, the following people put on a great show: Lark Huang, Cynthia Chou, Barb Maclay, Suzanne Henson, Dave McCord, Richard Williams, John Walker, Steve Findley, Rick Burkhardt, Joe Futrelle, Lisa Frankenberg, Anne Shapira, David Han, Beth Rempe, Ella Schoenberg, Eugene Peppers, Jennifer Rugg, Lucy Kim, Kanchan Bhowmik, Alison Shaw, Miriam Davidson, Julie Swadener, Kathy Harmon, Heather Garrett, Jonny Faiman, Mary K. Mullally, Anna Friedman, Katy Marino. Thanks also to the Tech. Crew for good work: Shamit Kachru, Tony Chen, Marc Talbot, Tom Leslie, Kathleen Liu, Sophia Neely, Alice Liu, Prashanta Bhowmik, Jessica Hymowitz, Ellen Johnson, Celia Rothenberg.

It is her fight for life that we hope to remember through this book. We wish the best of luck to her family and friends. Thank you.

Senior Class Will

I, Cheri Anaclerio, leave my crossword puzzle vocabulary to Maureen McCord and my penchant for reading newspapers on the day they come out to the library.

I, Wendy Applequist, leave the job I'm quitting to Maureen McCord and Heather Garrett, pacifism to "Switch" and a bottle of 88-proof to the Sraamian.

I, Iris Chang, leave my hair to Ted MacDonald, my UNIQUE editorship and its responsibilities to Dan Kolodziej and Maureen McCord, and my sincere best wishes to Pat McLoughlin and Dr. Davis

I, Erin Clausing, leave my aggressiveness in basketball to Tina Schoeneweiss, my big eyes to Melinda Chen, and my love to my sister Kim.

I, John H. Cochrane, leave my position as official right-winger to anyone with the guts to take it. Hopefully, I will leave Mrs. Wheeler adoration for unbridled capitalism.

I, Eddie,Curran, leave my 17 year-old VW bug to anyone who thinks owning a car has to be fun.

I, Kelly Fitz, leave Peter Gabriel to Rick Burkhardt, my fish to Brian Holloway, and my ability to attend four years of dances without dancing a step to anyone who wants to be different.

I, Colin M. Garrett, leave you the realization that you are merely an evolutionary coincidence.

I, Leah Grossman, leave my taste in music to John Leslie, who will need it after Tom's influence, and my giggle to Emily O.

I, Ursula Hess, hereby leave my sedate earrings to Emily Osborn and my brother (thank God) here!

I, Michael Hochman, don't care what happens once I'm gone.

I, Michael Johnson, hereby will and bequeath my ability to manipulate teachers to Elizabeth Jockusch and my best wishes for a Uni High Varsity soccer team.

I, Brent Jordan, leave my running talents to Greg Wheeler, my basketball moves to Goofy Ted, and my 4-page-long list of "Dr. Bob quotes" to next year's Calculus class.

I, Kate Kasserman, leave my musical taste to Eric Krock, my Crass and Sid Vicious posters to Julie and Cynthia, my verbal ability to Rahul, and my grades to Laura Mabry.

I, Matthew Krummel, leave nothing because this is a dumb tradition!

I, Thomas, Leslie, in hopes of carrying on a great musical tradition, leave my keyboard to Mr. Lipousky.

I, Alice Liu, leave my great mass and size to Kim Clausing, my friendship and respect to Julie, Sophia, and Sally, and the best wishes for my brother.

I, David McCord, leave my good jokes and quiet classroom behavior to Pat McLoughlin, my best wishes to Dan Shapiro, a fellow Cub fan, and my great musical taste to everybody!

When I decided to take on this monumental task, I thought, "Hey, it can't be all that bad, right?" Well, it wasn't. It was, however, a lot of work. And, although I did get sick of this yearbook at times, it was one of the best things that I've done at this school. There is so much to remember from this book — every picture has a meaning, has a story behind it.

I would like to give my most sincere thanks to everyone who helped in any way, even if they thought that it was nothing. In particular, Sarah, Rich, and Julie, without whose constant encouragement, advice, and, most importantly, humor, I never would have been able to do it. Thank you everyone; you've made it worthwhile.

And remember, if you're scared to do something, the only way to really get over that fear is to grab hold of it and not let go until it's gone.

Anne

Closing

It's 1:19 AM. It's been super fast and now it is time to think about the closing. Well, it's been a fantastic year with a lot of exciting things happening. But I think the most exciting thing was editing the Yearbook. It couldn't have been done without Anne and Miss Feeney. I want to thank them for all the support they've given, and all the work they did that I didn't get to (which was a lot!) But most of all I want to thank them for putting up with all my nagging! I'll remember many things as we finish up ... baking soda/powder, Paula's laughs, Donahue and his fainting audience, Squirt cans, Anne's box, missing track, and Audrey's nut candy. Well, it's been a great year. Thanks for everything. See y'all next year.

Robert

We also appreciate the constant help and consideration of Mrs. Mank and the rest of the office staff, the generosity of Student Council, Nina for her beautiful work, and everyone else who pitched in and helped out!
